

aequitas counsel

Kirsten Doolittle is the founder and Managing Shareholder of Aequitas Counsel, a law firm that investigates allegations of misconduct in workplaces, institutions and universities. Ms. Doolittle is board certified in labor and employment law and has practiced exclusively in this field for 19 years.

Prior to launching Aequitas Counsel, Ms. Doolittle worked as a solo practitioner representing employees, labor unions and employers in the state and federal courts and administrative agencies of Florida.

In addition to her work as a practicing attorney, Ms. Doolittle serves as a neutral for parties seeking to resolve their disputes outside of litigation. She is a Florida Supreme Court Circuit Civil Mediator, Florida Supreme Court Qualified Arbitrator, and serves on the pro bono mediators' panels for the Jacksonville Human Rights Commission and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Ms. Doolittle graduated cum laude from Dartmouth College in 1996 with a Bachelor of Arts in History and a Minor in Education. In 2000, Ms. Doolittle graduated from the University of Southern California Law School where she served on The Law Review. She was admitted to the Virginia Bar in 2000, the District of Columbia Bar in 2001, and the Florida Bar in 2004.