Good afternoon, Connie.

Please forgive this delayed response. As I'm sure you're aware, the proposed residential development is within the 65 DNL for Cecil Airport. By FAA's definition, residential development within this defined noise zone is considered incompatible, and airports are tasked with protecting themselves from incompatible adjacent development. While JAA encourages compatible adjacent uses such as industrial and commercial activities, the proposed 2019-367 rezoning is strongly opposed.

Thank you,

Kimberly
